Narberth Sluggers Swamp Ardmore '9'

Borough Players Wield the Big Stick in 13 to 3 Rout.

MARTIN'S PLAY FEATURE

By John Uberti.

Narberth and Ardmore renewed their old baseball feud in the second game for each club of the Main Line League on the former's field to the distinct disadvantage of Molly Devlin's reorganized crew. When the smoke of battle had cleared away Ardmore was on the short end of a 13 to 3 score, being outthit throughout the three hours' slugging contest.

Ardmore's lone challenge came in the first inning, when they scored two runs on two hefty bingles. The boroughites responded, however, with two in their half of the second, and from then on it was a rout. Graham, though touched for nine hits, kept them well scattered and never was in deep water after the first inning, strong support being accorded him in the field throughout the fray.

Every man of the Davis' clan found the rival hillmen for at least one rap each in this glorious three-hour batting melee, with the exception of Mike Mulligan, who, however, received two free tickets to first.

Mike's play featured the seventh inning, as he intercepted three whizzing grounders and relayed brilliantly to Martin, routing the invaders in quick fashion. Two errors marred his otherwise brilliant performance, one of which gave the visitors a run as he threw wild to first, and the other, which the home scorer allowed as excusable, but which the Brookline scorekeeper refused to sanction, the hit being a slow one and which should have been caught.

Consistent prowess at the pentagon, perfectly interwoven with unique collaboration afield, were the elements that spelled defeat for the Ardmore Club. Bob Martin, fleetest base-runner of the Main Line League, featured the ash totting, as he connected with three bombastic smashes, as did V. Fleck, the father of his club.

In the nine innings of batting practice, Narberth chased two boxmen to the showers and the third was thankful to the committee that agreed that "nine innings shall constitute a game," for had the contest gone another stanza he would undoubtedly have been carried off the field.

Ardmore tallied two runs in the opening stanza, but the score was immediately deadlocked in the local half. Curvin could see nothing soothing to the optics and strolled, but Mulligan forced him on second, barely falling a victim to a double play. Burns hit McLintock's first offering for a resonant double, and when King Sol intervened, blinding the fielder, Graham's aerial scored Mulligan. Camera-eyed Powell walked, filling the lanes, and when Heckel strolled, Burns automatically coined run number two. Fleck bunted, forcing Graham on pitcher's choice, and Harris, one of the most dangerous hickory toters of the Boro line-up, failed at a time when he might have put his name in the limelight. His skyrocket to centre

Prison Warden Is Rotary Club Speaker

A picture of modern criminology and prison practice was given members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon Tuesday. The speaker was Major Romanus Fellman, warden of the Montgomery County prison at Norristown.

"Why are so many young men in jail today," Major Fellman asked. "Ten years ago the average age of a prisoner was 38. Today it is 22. The reason, in my opinion, is modernism. Speed and the search of pleasure and the almighty dollar are driving the youths to the prisons."

Condemnation of the increase in cigarette smoking by women, road houses and drunken driving was a feature of the talk. Major Fellman placed the responsibility for the increase in crime squarely up to the parents.

"The prison cannot cure. Instead of improving the prisoner, it turns him out weaker physically and morally. The parents must teach and advise. Young girls must be kept in touch with their age—you can't teach them much that they do not know."

Patriotism, the warden said, is losing its hold due to disrespect for law.

D. A. R. Holds Final Meeting of Season

At the annual meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter, N. S. D. A. R., held Monday at the home of Mrs. W. R. O'Sullivan, 85 Windsor Avenue, Narberth, yearly reports were read. Election of officers to fill vacancies also took place. Mrs. Stuart Anderson was elected the second vice regent and Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. F. T. Van Auken the new members of the governing board.

Mrs. Samuel Z. Shope, Mrs. H. M. Chalfont, Mrs. H. G. Martin and Mrs. H. G. Venemann were chosen delegates to the State Conference, to be held at New Castle in October.

The Chapter voted to give a new flagpole to Holiday House at Valley Forge.

A Gaseous Fable, or All's Not Well

Natural gas on Montgomery Avenue, deserting its natural habitat underground, made known its presence in the upper regions this week by discoloring several flowering trees of the Garden Nurseries owned by A. E. Wohlert.

Officials of the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas & Electric Company, when summoned by Mr. Wohlert, sniffed around, dug holes in the pike and said there was no gas escaping.

Mr. Wohlert disagreed to the extent of striking a match, throwing it in the hole, and lo, the air burned. The gas company officials were properly nonplussed and the source of the gas remains a mystery.

Shore Popular as Warm Weather Sets in With Vengeance—Other Fireside Notes

The guests who attended the house party given at Ocean City last weekend by Miss Betty Bowman, of Elmwood Avenue, were Eleanor Michaelson, Helen Benham, Janet Caldwell, Susan Reeves, Mary Louise Fox, Helen Krout and Annette Bergeron.

Mrs. L. M. Bowers and family, Manor Road, Wynnewood, have taken a cottage at Atlantic City for the season, and left for the resort this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood, of Forest Avenue, with Mrs. Wood's sister, Mrs. Francis Bradlee, of Marblehead, are spending a week at French Lick Springs, Ind. Mr. Wood, who is advertising manager of the Autocar Company, was one of the speakers of the semi-annual meeting of the National Advertisers' Association.

Mr. J. B. Wine and family, Shirley Road, spent the week-end at their summer cottage which has just been completed on the Lewis Beach at the Delaware Breakwater.

The Misses Elizabeth and Carlyn Goldsmith, of Montgomery Avenue, Wynnewood, entertained twenty-four members of the summer camp, "Woodmere," at a bridge party Sunday last.

Mr. A. D. Wentz, with his son Alan, of Spring Grove, Pa., visited his son, Mr. Walton M. Wentz, of 205 Wayne Avenue, last week-end. Miss Evelyn Wentz, who had been a visitor here for several days, returned with them.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson Crane, of Annapolis, Md., were guests last week-end of Mr. and Mrs. George Norman Gill, 216 Dudley Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Stringfield, Jr., have moved from 214 Dudley Avenue to new home at 206 Hampden Avenue.

Mr. Walter Martin, son of Judge Martin, of New York, was the guest of Mr. Allen Cameron, of Montgomery Avenue, prior to joining his family abroad for the summer.

Contagion on Wane

Fewer cases of contagious disease were reported in Lower Merion Township this week than for several weeks past, according to Marvin E. Reynolds, health officer, who lists a total of fourteen new patients. The cases include one with scarlet fever in Wynnewood, five chickenpox, two German measles, one measles, one pneumonia and four with whooping cough. Eight of the new cases are in the South Ardmore to City Line district.

Criticism, adverse or favorable, will always be appreciated by the editor.

Thrill Ride on Train Ends in Youth's Death

A 19-year-old Philadelphia youth was instantly killed Monday night near the Merion Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad under a freight train on which he and a companion had stolen a short ride as a thrill.

The victim, Earl Wilson, 19, of 31 North Thirty-seventh Street, in leaping from the rapidly moving train, struck a fence between east and westbound tracks and rolled under the cars. His head was struck by some part of the car and his leg crushed by the wheels.

Earl Dundon, 19, of 3845 Pearl Street, Philadelphia, his companion in the fatal adventure, was still on the train when he saw the victim disappear under a car. A short distance farther on he leaped, narrowly clearing the fence. The tail of his coat was ripped by one panel, so close was he to the obstruction. Running back after the train passed, he found the body of his companion. His cries for aid were heard by a taxi driver, who summoned police.

Lieutenant Duke, accompanied by Patrolman Beggs and Robb arrived at the scene in a few minutes. They saw at once that the youth was beyond medical aid and arranged for his removal to Frankensfield's morgue. Later the body was sent to his home in Philadelphia.

At the police station in Ardmore, Dundon told how he and Wilson, upon leaving four other youths at the Overbrook Station, decided to take the adventurous ride. They hopped the freight there and rode as far as Merion, he said.

Griswold Elected Trustee of Narberth Fire Company

At the meeting of the Narberth Fire Company Tuesday night the officers nominated at the April meeting without opposition were duly elected. A temporary appointment was made by President Tristan B. du Marais, of E. C. Griswold, to act as trustee in the place of Taylor Henry, who resigned. Mr. Henry's business has taken him to Baltimore to live. Mr. Griswold's appointment was confirmed at the meeting Tuesday night when he was nominated by the membership and will be duly elected at the June meeting of the fire company.

Favorable comment was expressed at the meeting of the plan under consideration to form a Lower Merion and Narberth firemen's relief association, which would greatly increase the annuity obtainable for men injured at fires.

Havana Red Sox to Play Here Monday

Cuban Colored Stars Are One of Leading Attractions in Baseball.

IS TWILIGHT GAME

Baseball is certainly having its innings these days. On top of Memorial Day games, a Main Line League game Saturday, comes the announcement of an exhibition game Monday with one of the greatest attractions in baseball, the Havana Red Sox.

This Cuban colored club, which will oppose Narberth on the playground, at 6:30, boasts more star ball players than any other half-dozen colored teams put together, and has the added advantage, from the spectator's point of view of being foreigners and hence more "colorful."

Among the players who will be seen in action are the following Cuban stars: Pedro Ferrer, the Cuban "Lindstrom"; Marcelino Bauza, the "Frank Frisch" flash; Salvador Massip, greatest of first sackers; Basilo Cuera, the home-run king; Ramiro Ramirez, manager and former Bacharach and Lincoln Giants star; Elbert "Smoky Joe" Williams, the speedball artist, and many others. The Havana Red Sox carry a playing staff of fourteen ball players and are uniquely uniformed and equipped. The "Shadowball Exhibition" before the game, presenting plenty of "whoopie," is one of the big hits to be offered the fans of this vicinity.

The Havana Red Sox opened their season at Miami, Fla., early in March, after a winter campaign in Cuba, and barnstormed the South, gradually working their way North. The team presents several amusing features during its exhibition which, along with the fact that it is a foreign team, makes them one of the biggest drawing cards of the baseball world.

These Cubans play real baseball and the home representatives will have to be at their best to stay in the running. Last season on a tour through the South, the Red Sox made a clean sweep, scoring twenty-two consecutive victories, without a single defeat, taking into camp such teams as the New Orleans Black Pelicans, the Leesburg Florida Giants, the Mobile Black Sox and many others, losing their first game at Miami against the Miami (Fla.) Giants, where they finally captured the eight-day series, after one of the bitterest fights ever exhibited at that city.

Girls' Attacker Held Without Bail For Court

On charges preferred by a Mt. Airy girl, who alleged they kept her a prisoner from Saturday night until Sunday afternoon, Arthur Bredenback, 26, Church Road, Wynnefield, and Robert Faust, 25, Winchester Road, Merion, were held without bail Monday by Magistrate Franklin Kromer at Lower Merion police headquarters, Ardmore.

The complaint, lodged by Miss Ross' father and two brothers, alleges Miss Ross was attacked by Bredenback, who is single, at the Merion home of Faust, who is married, but whose wife and children were away for the week-end.

The two men were arrested at 3:30 A. M. Monday when they returned to Faust's home in a taxicab.

Miss Ross told her relatives she met Bredenback by appointment Saturday evening at Germantown and Chelton Avenue, and that he invited her to attend a party in Merion. She said he drove to Faust's home, which was brilliantly lighted, and she entered, unsuspecting. Once inside, the girl said she was made a prisoner behind locked doors.

At the hearing, held Tuesday night by Magistrate Kromer at Ardmore, Faust was discharged and Bredenback was held without bail for the September term of Court.

Collection Next Week

Next week, that of June 3, will be ash and rubbish collection week in the borough. Furnaces have been running unusually late this year due to the cold and rainy weather and so the borough men will probably find plenty of ashes to collect. Have them out and they will be collected on the regular days, unless, of course, heavy collections cause delay. This will be the only collection for the month of June so it behooves all housekeepers to take advantage of it.

Mrs. Norma B. Brown, a decorator of the Du Pont Home Decoration Service, will be at the store to give talks on the use of color in decorating various rooms. She will also show the women customers how to get the best effects in particular decoration problems which concern them. It is expected that Mrs. Brown will institute classes in Duco decoration and will conduct these during her stay in Narberth.

Grove Place Residents Sign Paving Petition

Will Be Paved in Accordance With Street Improvement Bond Issue.

ROCKLAND IS PENDING

Residents of Grove Place have deposited with the borough authorities a completely signed petition requesting the paving of that street in accordance with the provisions of the Street Improvement Issue by means of which the property owners pay 30 per cent. and the borough pays the remaining 70 per cent. If this petition is approved in its legality by the borough solicitor's office, and there is little doubt of such approval, Grove Place property owners, as well as those on Wynnewood Court, will see the permanent improvement of their street this season at lower cost to themselves than can possibly be obtained at any future time in any other way.

That section of Rockland Road, from Narberth to the railroad bridge, still remains in doubt, but only so far as the terms of payment for the improvement are concerned. If four-fifths of the property owners on that street are willing to sign the same kind of a petition which has already been signed by the property owners on the other two streets, they can participate in the benefits of the bond issue.

If, however, the Rockland Road property owners are not willing to sign that petition in sufficient numbers to qualify under the bond issue, it will be necessary for the borough authorities to proceed with the improvement of that street under the general statutes. In such a case, it would be legally impossible for any of the available bond issue funds to be applied to that street, leaving the borough authorities no alternative but to assess all of the cost of the Rockland Road improvement against the property owners there.

The State laws no longer permit boroughs to install such permanent pavements on streets which have not previously been improved and to take the money out of current tax receipts. A special bond issue, ratified for that purpose by the voters, as was the case with the Street Improvement Bond Issue, of course, makes money available, but that money can be spent only in accordance with the terms governing the bond issue. The Narberth Street Improvement Bond Issue of $75,000 was approved by the voters of Narberth in November, 1924, and since that time approximately four miles of streets have been improved in accordance with the terms of it.

The terms of that bond issue provided that the property owners should pay 30 per cent. of the cost and that they should indicate their agreement thereto by a signed petition. It is impossible at this late day to change the terms of that bond issue and it would not be legally fair to the hundreds of Narberth property owners, who have previously complied with it, to grant any different terms to the people on Rockland Road. After a delay of four years, waiting for their compliance, it is no longer possible for the borough authorities to refrain longer from permanently improving that street when public interest clearly demands it. Therefore, surveys have already been made and bids have been advertised for covering the improvement of Rockland Road as well as the other unpaved streets. It is expected that the work will be installed this season.

Post Engaged on Various Activities

An enthusiastic and well-attended meeting was held by the Harold D. Speakman Post on Monday night at the Legion room, Community Building. A report of the dinner given to National Commander McNut last Wednesday in Philadelphia was ably made by Comrade Frank A. Schrepfer.

A committee of the Post, consisting of Harry Simpson, chairman; Henry A. Frye and A. W. Burns was appointed to make arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration in cooperation with the other organizations of the borough.

The Legion, as is its yearly custom in connection with Memorial Day, will attend a morning church service Sunday, June 2, this year at the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. John Van Ness will preach.

The dinner to be given by the losing team in the recent membership drive of the Post will be held at the next regular meeting on June 24. All members of the Post are invited to the affair, which will be very informal.

"The Romantic Age," which will be presented at the Merion Cricket Club on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, June 5 and 6, by the Main Line Repertory Theatre, has a cast composed of a new group of talented amateurs who are completing their season next month with the production of the Milne play.

Hathaway, in the role of the father of "Melisande."

This production will be the third for this ambitious group this spring, but the first under the direction of Julian W. Gardy. The season opened with a group of three one-act plays at Belmont Mansion, Fairmount Park, and was followed with a three-act play last month in the same playhouse. Feeling that this location was too inaccessible it was decided to give the plays at the Merion Cricket Club, which can be reached more conveniently. It is planned to make this location the permanent home of the plays and to give a series of plays throughout the year, on a subscription basis, beginning next fall.

The spread of the insect into practically all sections of the State during the past five years, and the loss which it causes, have resulted in great concern among fruit growers generally.

Maroon Track Stars Win Third Big Meet

Lower Merion Victor in Class A Interscholastics at Pennsburg.

SIGEL HIGH POINT MAN

For the third consecutive week Coach Adam's Lower Merion Senior High School track team has taken first place in an important meet, each time winning over a fancy field of entries. After losing out at the Swarthmore interscholastics early in the month and then losing to Haverford Prep the following week, it looked as if the squad would have a doubtful season, but the work of the team in the past three weeks has assured Coach Adam and his followers of a successful season with a capital S.

The last important victory of the Main Line team was winning the Perkiomen meet at Pennsburg on Saturday. Lower Merion took the laurels over other Class A schools from the eastern section of the State with a total of 34 points. West Catholic, of Philadelphia, came in second with 25 and St. Joseph's third with 14.

Bob Sigel again led in the scoring for Lower Merion, winning three first places, discuss, shotput and javelin throw. He defeated all classes in the discuss and javelin events. His total of 15 gained the trophy for individual high points for the day. Purring took third place in the broad jump, and Kavanaugh, of Radnor, took fourth in the same event. Hicks, of Lower Merion, took third in the mile run with Kennedy, of Upper Darby, right behind him for fourth place. Klemm helped out Lower Merion's cause by winning the high jump at 5 feet 7 inches.

The Maroon failed to place in the dashes or the pole vault, but they took third place in the mile relay, which was won by St. Joseph's.

The team's last event of the season will be June 1 at the Norristown interscholastics.

SOME MOTOR FACTS

As Set Forth by E. W. Tallman, of Auto Club of Philadelphia.

The following statements were given out recently by Ernest W. Tallman, general manager of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association and the Pennsylvania Motor Federation:

Railroads pay less than two and one-half per cent. of the total rural highway income.

Maintenance expenditures are increasing in proportion to construction costs due to growing mileage of improved roads.

Less than twelve cents out of each State and local general tax dollar goes to the highways.

Seventy-eight per cent. of the world's automobiles are in the United States.

There are now 365 street railways and 67 railroads using motor busses.

Fifty-eight per cent. of new cars are sold on time payments.

America now has 317,000 gasoline filling stations and 604,000 pumps.

There are a total of 56,000 public garages and 89,000 service stations and repair shops in the United States.

Eighty-five per cent. of the passenger automobiles manufactured are closed cars.

Eighty per cent. of gasoline consumption is by the motor industry.

America uses 434,000,000 gallons of motor oil annually.

The average retail price of automobiles is $887.

The total mileage of all highways in the country is 3,013,584 miles.

America paid a total of $785,386,000 in taxes on motor vehicles.

There were 3,600,000 carloads of automotive freight shipped over railroads in 1928.

MANY CARS SHIPPED

Chevrolet Motor Company Paid Railroads Big Freight Bill Last Year.

Striking evidence of the heavy demands made annually on the railroads by automobile manufacturers came to light with the announcement of C. R. Scharff, general traffic director of Chevrolet Motor Company, that the company's freight bill for 1928, representing inbound and outbound shipments for 16 domestic plants, totalled more than $46,000,000. This was an increase of more than $11,000,000 over the 1927 bill.

In making the announcement Mr. Scharff revealed that the 1928 bill covered the movement of 272,368 carloads of freight, totalling 7,968,047,324 pounds. Exclusive of this poundage Mr. Scharff declared there was an additional 221,403,427 pounds of less than carload freight, 4,767,783 pounds shipped by express and 331,040 driveways.

Thousand New Cynwyd Homes Is Lawler Aim

Several homes have been constructed and sold by Patrick J. Lawler, of Bala, in his Cynwyd Estates development, which is predicted to be one of the most extensive suburban developments in the metropolitan Philadelphia area.

It is said that the Cynwyd Estates tract has enough land in it for the construction of approximately 1000 single and semi-detached houses, a group of which already has been completed. They are of two stories, of stone and stucco construction.

To add to the variety of the development Mr. Lawler has chosen a number of distinctive exterior designs, among them being the English cottage and the English Tudor.

The tract is on high, rolling ground, and in its development for homes the builder has laid out the street improvements so that there will be no encroachment upon the natural beauty of the surrounding territory or in the development itself. Mr. Lawler, whose many holdings include the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd, recently sold a plot of ground in his new development to the Lower Merion Board of Education, on which to build a school when the demand for it arises.

The construction of the entire group of houses will be spread over a period of time, according to Mr. Lawler.

'Through the Lorgnette'

(By K. M. Sura)
The old-fashioned Korean woman, we read, wears a huge basket-like hat. I have the picture before me and it looks very much like a great umbrella obscuring the wearer's face entirely from view. How unlike our chic little hats which have been in vogue now for some seasons, and we hope, many seasons to come—for what is more charming than the cloche, the helmet, and even the small skull cap? They are simply captivating.

One unusual hat I chanced to see was made of soft ooze leather, a smart comfortable hat to wear with your sport fur coat. The hat shown was made to the contour of the head, a decided helmet, and the color a rich bottle green. This model is severe, and unfortunately all of us cannot wear the helmet of severe lines. However, there are so many styles to choose from, and it must be a softly-molded, close-fitting hat which offers no interference with our fur collar.

One interesting model displayed was a black velour hat, turned up sharply in the front, the crown shaved, and a band of the silky-haired felt edged the rim and crossed low at the back of the neck. Then there is that new shade of fuchsia in a soleil velour, turn-down model, small brim widening at the sides, void of any trimming whatsoever. Then the turban, coquettish to the extreme, a close-fitting toque of wood-brown velour, a soft fluffy pom-pom placed low on the right side, hugging the cheek line in a most flattering manner. The most popular shades in millinery are brown in the nutmeg shades, wine reds, dark grey blues and brilliant blues, fuchsia and black.

I am intrigued by the new type of evening hat, the flexible skull cap of gold cloth, silver cloth and sometimes sequins and even of pearls. Nothing more flattering in millinery has been offered in a long, long time.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

This week's quota of Main Line champions: Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Merion C. C., Philadelphia golf champion. Miss Anne Page, Merion C. C., women's interclub tennis champion. Joseph H. Morris, Jr., Haverford College, new Middle States A. A. marks in both the shotput and discus throw. Elliott Loughlin, Episcopal Academy, won senior tennis crown in Middle States interscholastic tournament.

Another excellent hope for one or more championships, Samuel B. Gilpin, of Cynwyd, had one of those extremely "off" weeks. Sam lost the Bankers Country Club invitation tournament to Norman Braman, captain of the Idle Hour tennis team, at Ambler, 6-4, 0-6, 7-5. It was the second setback in two days, as last Friday, at Cynwyd, Gilpin lost the final match of the Philadelphia and district tennis championship to Harold MacGuffin, Germantown C. C., 6-3, 6-4, 6-2. In the semi-final, Samuel had taken Braman's measure, so the subsequent defeat at Ambler was quite a surprise.

Still another possibility for laurels was definitely eliminated when Chestnut Hill Academy won the Interacademic League baseball title by defeating Episcopal Academy, 10-2. Still, championships in football and basketball ought to be sufficient honors for the Episcopalians in one year.

Featured by the long-range stroking of George H. Earle, Jr., and the general all-around play of Dave Wolfenden, Wister Randolph and Barclay MacFadden, the Bryn Mawr polo team, defeated the Pennsylvania Military College mallet swingers, 13-7, on Saturday before two thousand persons at the Philadelphia C. C. field. Bala. The P. M. C. had been given a six-goal handicap.

Three golfers made holes-in-one at the Bala Golf Club course last week. Ed. Loud and Peter Mullen made aces at the sixth hole on Saturday, while earlier in the week Dave Cuthbert sank one at the thirteenth.

Cynwyd Club just barely won from the Idle Hour team, 5-4, in a Middle States Tennis League match Sunday at Cynwyd. Harold Lane, formerly of Cynwyd, but now with Idle Hour, caused the most trouble by defeating Harold Colborn two sets to one. Ralph Dix, John Haynes and Harold Custer, Cynwyd, won their matches, but G. O. Shafer and H. Dornheim bowed respectively to Gabe Lavine and J. Richardson.

Cynwyd "B" continues on top of the perch in Division B of the Middle States Tennis League. On Saturday, Cynwyd defeated the Philadelphia and Reading team, 7-2. R. Dix, H. Simons, G. Stewart, William Maguire, Dr. MacKinney, William Campbell, Dr. Lott, Keese and McMorris played for Cynwyd.

Jerry Underwood's Autocar Giants team is trouncing all the opposition in sight. Week-end results were: Giants, 19; Main Line Tigers, 8; and Giants, 16; Ardmore A. C., 2; Twissdale, Taylor, Burgen and either Cannon or Bounds make a lead-off outfit that has the opposing hurlers trembling at the start. In addition, the pitching staff isn't so poor.

Lefty Haas, Gettysburg hurler, was too much for Villanova and the Wildcats lost, 4-2. But it was a different story next day against St. Joseph's team, who bowed, 10-3. Hiller pitched the winning game.

Loughlin Wins Title

Overcoming a two-set lead, Elliott Loughlin, Episcopal Academy, captured the senior title in the Middle States interscholastic tournament at the Germantown C. C. by vanquishing Bert Claster, Harrisburg Academy, in five sets, 6-8, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1. In the junior singles, Frank Fiala, Germantown, defeated Fricke, of Lower Merion High, 8-6 and 7-5.

Miss Page Tennis Champ

After defeating her rival in many matches, Miss Virginia Hilleary, of the Cricket Club, 8-6, 6-2, for the women's interclub tennis championship Saturday at Huntingdon Valley, Miss Anne Page, Merion Cricket Club, paired with her clubmate, Mrs. C. C. Madeira, to take the doubles title, by defeating Mrs. Alfred R. Hunter and Miss Hilleary, 6-2, 6-4. In winning the singles and doubles titles Miss Page played throughout the entire afternoon.

Mrs. Hurd Takes Golf Title

For the fourth time in her remarkable career, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of the Merion Cricket Club, is Philadelphia golf champion. On Friday, over the difficult Overbrook course, the Haverford club star defeated Miss Edith Quier, of Huntingdon Valley, 4 and 3 in the finals.

It was deadly accuracy, tinged with daring—the sort of playing with which Mrs. Hurd won the British championship twice, the United States title three times and the Canadian, Scotch and Irish crowns—that carried golf's "wonder woman" to a decisive victory over her youthful Huntingdon Valley opponent.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

This is the third of a series of articles on "Prohibition" which express the views of the columnist rather than the editorial policy of the news-magazine.

Prohibition.

The forces for temperance, with science and education on their side, were gradually educating children in private and public schools about the injurious effects of alcohol. Their reasonable propaganda was spreading, and they worked into politics in as insidious a way as the most experienced lobbyists. Drink to them had always been an unforgivable curse, and they were determined to wipe it out.

The opening gun was "wartime prohibition," which appealed to public sentiment as a wise, though temporary, measure. The submitting of Volstead's amendment to the Constitution on top of this went through the Senate and House so easily that few people realized what had happened. This amendment was declared in force January 16, 1919, and in case you forget its exact terms here it is:

ARTICLE XVIII

1. After one year from the ratification of this Article the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes is hereby prohibited.

2. The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by the Legislatures of the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by Congress.

One can readily see by the very terms of the Act that it was not railroaded through Congress while all of our young men were fighting in France, as is so frequently charged. The terms were clear and the matter was concise.

What happened? First of all a great many very fine men whose whole investment was tied up in breweries and distilleries were suddenly deprived of their businesses and income without compensation. Second, hundreds of thousands of saloon-keepers were forced to close their doors and to seek a new form of employment. Third, the thirsty of the nation were supposed to change their choice of beverages without any gradual warning almost overnight.

It was some time before many people actually realized what had happened, and the initial efforts at enforcement drew cheers from the militant Prohibitionists, the Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U., arch enemies of "John Barleycorn." The temperate and moderate-drinking public was dismayed and not a little defiant at what it considered an unreasonable infringement of its rights. There was talk about the invasion of personal liberty, the invasion of private homes and the general iniquity of the procedure. Such talk is childish. A man may not abuse his wife or children at home; the law prevents that. He may not use narcotics or sell them at home or be subject to arrest. His "castle" is liable to invasion from the forces of the law for many sorts of irregularities, so that invasion to stop illegal drinking is quite in keeping with other restrictions of personal liberties or licenses.

I do, however, believe that this Act was designed without proper regard for human psychology and with too great stringency for the purpose intended, so that by overstepping its alleged goal of temperance and license such as our country had never before seen.

Next week we shall start examining the effects of prohibition as we have known it in the United States.

Haverford M. A. S. A. A. Victor; Records Fall

Monis Sets Two New Marks; Sykes and Ensworth Winners.

Jubilation still reigns at Haverford College over winning its first championship in seventeen years of competition in the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association at the annual meet last Friday and Saturday at Walton Field.

The Scarlet and Black track and field stars scored 47 7/10 points to nose out Alfred University, which ran up the surprising total of 38 1/5 points. Rutgers was third with 26 points, while Lafayette, Johns Hopkins, Swarthmore, Dickinson, Union, Gettysburg, Muhlenberg, Ursinus, Delaware and Manhattan, other schools which qualified, were completely outdistance in the score.

The lion's share of the glory for Haverford's first M. A. S. C. A. A. crown goes to Morris, Sykes and Ensworth, but other Haverford stars who made possible the victory by winning second, third, fourth and fifth places in various events are also being sung in praise.

Morris not only won the finals of the discus throw and the shotput, but established new M. A. S. C. A. A. records in both events. The standing shotput record was smashed by "Egg," as his teammates please to call him, in the finals, when he heaved the shot 45 feet 11 5/8 inches, bettering by 8 5/8 inches the previous record. By sailing the discus 146 feet 1/4 inch in the qualifying trial on Friday, he shattered the association mark of 141 feet.

Sykes, by breaking the tape first in the finals of the 220-yard low hurdles, and Ensworth in winning the 100-yard dash, brought Haverford its other two crowns in the fourteen events.

Ensworth also placed second in the 220-yard dash. Haverford athletes to win other second places were Tripp, in the broad jump, and Richardson, tied with Cohen, Union, in the high jump.

G. Edgar, of Haverford, won third place in the one-mile run, while Speck tied with four other contestants for third in the pole vault. Fourth in the shotput was Fields, of Haverford, and R. Edgar, of Haverford, was fifth in the 880-yard run.

In an exhibition 2400-yard relay race run Saturday afternoon, New York University's crack middle-distance sprinters established a new unofficial world's record of 4 minutes and 52 2/5 seconds. The opposing team, picked from the stars participating in the meeting, included Gerenbeck, of Haverford.

Excellent weather attended the annual championships and large crowds were on hand both days. The 1930 contest is scheduled to be held on Walton Field.

Patrick Brady Fourth Among State Orators

Patrick Brady, of Bryn Mawr, who took first place in the Pennsylvania Forensic League's District Oratorical Contest at Norristown some ten days ago, representing Lower Merion High School, went to Harrisburg last Friday afternoon, where he took part in the finals. Seven high schools from the several districts of Pennsylvania were represented and the contest was held in the Senate Chamber at the State Capitol. Pat won fourth place, Alberta Kelly, of Meadville High School, won the first prize, a silver loving cup. This was the second annual oratorical of the league.

Pennsylvania was not represented this year in the National Oratorical Contest Henrietta Deubler, member of the junior class at Lower Merion High School, won the D. A. R. History Essay Contest which is annually held by the Merion Chapter of the D. A. R. Mrs. E. L. Buchey, of Merion, regent of the Merion Chapter, presented Henrietta with the gold medal at a special assembly Friday afternoon at the high school auditorium. Henrietta read her essay to the school at the assembly. Following this, the members of the faculty of the high school gave a tea to the D. A. R. members who were present.

Famous Flag Briefly Displayed in Ardmore

For the first time in recent years the public is being given an opportunity to view the cherished mourning flag owned and made by Mrs. Marie Harvey, 90, of 2938 Wharton Street, Philadelphia. The flag, made on April 16, 1865, the day after Lincoln's assassination, is being shown Memorial Day, today and tomorrow at the store of James Mills, 53 Cricket Avenue, Ardmore. Mrs. Harvey is Mr. Mills' mother.

The flag has been draped and hung out by Mrs. Harvey at the death not only of Lincoln, but also of Presidents Garfield, Arthur, Grant, Benjamin Harrison and Hayes. The dearly treasured emblem is made of flannel and measures four by six feet. No hunting could be purchased in this section then, and Mrs. Harvey, desiring to have the flag displayed, bought the flannel in a small Philadelphia store. The flag was cut, sewed and made by her hands.

Mourning cloth was also scarce then, and Mrs. Harvey ripped up her black hoopskirt and hung the cloth from window to window. The same piece of black ribbon which was tied to it in 1865 is tied to it now.

Scott, of Valley Forge, to recover $12,500 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by Mrs. Sall when she is alleged to have fallen into an unscreened opening in the driveway of the Edgell Apartment House operated by defendant on Old Lancaster Road, in Lower Merion.

The Old Main Line

The following historical sketch, which will be printed serially, was written by Margaret B. Harvey, and originally published in a volume issued by the Historical Society of Montgomery County in 1895. Entitled "Something About Lower Merion," it traces the history of the township from its beginnings to the 1890's with many delightful digressions.

Installation 10.

In which we hear of the settlement and naming of Bala and of some of the early families in Lower Merion.

Trace the roadbed east from the General Wayne tavern. For half a mile it follows the old Lancaster Road, here continuous with the Indian trail, reaching the Ford Road at Merionville. The old railroad here deflects and follows the Ford Road, the continuation of the Indian trail, past the row of cone-like cedars, once visible from the garret window of my ancestral home. From this point to City Avenue is but a distance of a few yards, and the old railroad passed into Philadelphia and continued upon its way through the park to the Columbia bridge. But before reaching City Avenue, the roadbed led a deep cut in a rocky hill, and this same deep cut, long abandoned by the Pennsylvania Railroad, is now utilized by it for the route of the Schuylkill Valley branch.

And now we have approached within only a few feet of the spot where the early white man first entered Lower Merion. This spot is now the property of the Roberts family. The Roberts' domain extends, just as it did nearly two hundred years ago, from the Ford Road to the Schuylkill. Its old name, Pencoyd or Penquid, has been applied to the iron works with the newly-grown village upon the river's edge, presenting such a picturesque aspect to the beholder upon the opposite bank, the tall chimneys breathing out fire and smoke against the dark green hills. Here were, for years, shad fisheries, the property of the Jones family. President George B. Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, belongs to this same old Welsh race of Roberts. He it was who created the Schuylkill branch and established Bala station upon the edge of its ancestral lands. Welsh names throughout Lower Merion either survive or have been revived with praiseworthy taste. President Roberts applied to this station a name which would correspond with these other Welsh names in the neighborhood—Bala, from Bala in Merionethshire, Wales, from which the first American Roberts brought his bride. This name, ere long, will become doubly appropriate, for Merionville's, or more properly Merioneth's, growing down along the Ford Road to the station is only a question of time.

And now have I come back to my starting point. Almost. The extensive domain upon the other side of Bala station has been in the Stadelman family nearly as long as the Roberts territory in theirs. This fact reminds me of many things. One is, that though I myself represent a race driven out of Lower Merion by modern invaders, I also represent invaders; my ancestors, early though they were, were not the first to claim the soil. English and Irish Friends followed Welsh Quakers and Episcopalians and German Lutherans; and such names as Jones, Roberts, Price (a modification of ap Rees), Bevan (an alteration of ap Evans), Humphreys (hun Fries, meaning, literally, from Friesland), Wynne, Super and Stadelman have the chief claim to distinction. Almost contemporary with the Welsh were German emigrants from the Palatinate, fleeing also, like the Welsh, from persecution. By the year 1769 these Germans had so increased in numbers that they founded an Evangelical Lutheran Church in Merion; and one of the first members of this church was a Stadelman, whose descendants still possess their ancestral home. But many of these German Lutherans lived just as far from their place of worship as the first Stadelman did.

"The little Dutch Church" was a primitive edifice, almost literally in the wilderness, standing as it did on the old road from Merion Meeting to Haverford, called Church Road from the German place of worship and not from either meeting house. This same antique structure remained, in the midst of its beautiful cemetery half a mile beyond Ardmore toward the Delaware County line, until about six years ago, when it was pulled down to be succeeded by a more modern and less attractive church in the village proper. This, to the eyes of outsiders, seems the most foolish thing that the congregation ever did; but they have a history of the heroic devotion of their forefathers of which any congregation might well be proud. Thus early it will be seen were altars of religion consecrated in Lower Merion in more ways and in other names than one. I can not here give an account of any particular denomination and its growth, but will only remark that the first Episcopal Church, the Redeemer, near Bryn Mawr, was an offshoot of old St. David's, at Radnor; and that Methodism, while successful everywhere else in the world, never flourished in Lower Merion.

Motorists, attention! The amended Vehicle Code of Pennsylvania becomes effective Saturday, June 1, and aside from the increase in the maximum speed limit to forty miles an hour, the most important provision concerns the making of left turns at intersections.

William S. Canning, engineering director of the Keystone Automobile Club, pointed out this week the importance of this provision. "Under the new law," he said, "there will be one method only for the making of left turns—from the lane of traffic nearest to the centre of the highway. It is true that the law of 1927 made such provision, but it was weakened by a clause permitting local authorities to indicate other methods of making the turn by posting signs at the intersection. Thus the attempt at uniformity was nullified and motorists found various localities interpreting the law in a different manner."

"The amended Code permits no deviation from the standard provision. Local authorities may forbid left turns at certain intersections entirely, but they cannot change the method as prescribed by the act. "It is important for motorists to understand that under the law any vehicle approaching an intersection, from any direction, must yield the right of way to a vehicle turning left within the intersection, provided that the driver of the turning vehicle has given the proper signal of his intentions."

"It is also important for the motorist to know that in making the left turn from the lane of traffic nearest to the centre of the highway, he must not pass around the centre of the intersection, but he is obliged to pass as close as possible thereto on the left."

Sigel Smashes Javelin Mark; L. M. Beats Radnor

Coach Adam's track squad from the senior high school, Lower Merion, defeated Radnor in their annual dual meet at Wayne, Monday afternoon, by an overwhelming score, 78 to 30.

Page took first place in the 100 for Lower Merion, Warner first in the 440, Ernie Parks first in the 880, Hicks first in the mile, while Radnor scored two firsts on the cinders. Cavanaugh won the 220 and the 220 hurdles for Radnor. In the field events, Haskell won the high jump, Purring the broad jump, Dick Sigel the shotput and Robert Sigel the discus and the javelin. In the javelin throw, Sigel broke all his former records, as well as meet and school records, with a heave of 137 feet seven inches. Trout took the only first in the field events for Radnor in the pole vault.

Planning Federation Will Perform Traffic Count

The Regional Planning Federation has arranged for a comprehensive origin and destination passenger traffic count on Thursday, June 6, involving 1,000,000 persons, over all principal highways and railway, transit and bus lines serving the 4000 square miles of the Tri-State District in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

The count, devised as a co-operative good-will undertaking, is expected to furnish a graphic picture of the rivers of commuters, workers, shoppers, recreation seekers and others that circulate in and about the region, from suburbs to cities and from one densely populated area to another. With this information as a basis, future studies for the Regional Plan will be developed.

"The Regional Planning Federation," Mr. Connell, executive director, said, "is relying upon the good will and understanding of the traveling public throughout the Tri-State District to make this passenger census a success for planning

Apartment Builders to Conform to Code

$165,000 Structure Will Be Erected Without Basement Garage.

Refusal of the Board of Adjustment of Lower Merion Township to approve plans for the construction of a $165,000 apartment building, with a garage in the basement, on Montgomery Avenue, near Morris, Bryn Mawr, will not balk the erection of the structure, it was learned.

Since the approval of the plans was refused on the grounds that the garage underneath the building would violate the Zoning Code, the builders, Elmer B. Hampton, Inc., have decided to erect the apartment without the automobile storage department.

With that objectionable feature eliminated from the plans and a question of insufficient area for the building overcome by the purchase of additional ground, the permit for the structure will now be granted through regular procedure by the building inspector, it was indicated.

Four appeals were granted by the board at its meeting last Thursday night. They were:

Application of Mrs. E. V. Ross for a special exception covering the erection of an addition to a private dwelling at 232 Upland Road, Merion district.

Appeal of William A. Hayden from the action of the building inspector in refusing to grant a permit for the construction of a two-family dwelling at 836-38 Lancaster Avenue, Bryn Mawr.

Appeal of W. A. Wilkinson, Jr., from the action of the building inspector in refusing to grant a permit for the construction of a private dwelling, with garage attached, on Howe Road, near Meeting House Lane, General Wayne district.

Appeal of Dr. Walter Christy from the action of the building inspector in granting a permit for the erection of a private garage at Montgomery and Morris Avenues, East Bryn Mawr.

South Ardmore Site For Nature Sanctuary

A unique "building" proposition came under consideration at the last meeting of the Lower Merion Board of Adjustment in the appeal of Donald F. Bishop, of Germantown, for permission to construct an open-air fireplace on an undeveloped lot of ground on Sussex Road, near Knox Road, in the South Ardmore residential district.

The fireplace, Mr. Bishop explained, is the beginning of what he hopes to develop into an outdoor sanctuary, where his children can study the miracles of nature and the habits of the birds and insects. He said he intends to plant trees, shrubbery and flowers there, to erect several bird houses and to beautify the barren plot in other ways. The lot is 320 feet wide and about twice that deep.

In the center of the garden would be the fireplace, costing $3000, where he can group together his children in comfort and tell them stories about nature as in the dear dead days of old, he said.

The fireplace will not be without its modern touch, however, for he plans an ornamental covering of sheet metal which will forestall the need of stamping out the dying embers when he leaves after an outing at the sanctuary. The closely fitting cover will simply be closed and the embers will be imprisoned.

Despite the protests of a score of residents, who opposed the fireplace on the grounds it would create a fire hazard, the Board of Adjustment granted the appeal.

The members pointed out to the disgruntled neighbors-to-be that as long as Bishop was the owner of the land he could build a bonfire there without consulting anyone and that if he was considerate enough to erect the fireplace to eliminate dangers of his clubby fires spreading, the residents had not a foot to stand on in opposing the man's unusual whim.

Norristown Tramples Lower Merion, 4-1

Norristown High School came through with another baseball victory over Lower Merion last Friday at the latter's grounds. The score was 4 to 1, and the game, a regular nine-inning contest, was played fast and furiously. Lower Merion failed to dent home plate with a run until the ninth inning when Henry Gane singled down the third base line, stole second and scored on one of Norristown's three errors.

The Ardmore nine made only one error, something unusual for the high school boys, and it was irony of fate that this one should have been one which let in a score. Keith Parks, playing left field, let Griffith's single go through him and roll to the track, while the latter whizzed around the bases for a tally. Parella was the hitting star for Norristown with three singles. Tate, Lower Merion's catcher, hit a double and a single. Lower Merion was outthrew twelve to six.

Sub-Juniors Make Gift to Community Library

The Sub-Juniors of the Women's Community Club of Narberth have recently made a contribution of $5 to the library, and very opportunely, for the librarian, Miss Church, whose sympathetic work with the children has expanded that department, feels the need of further equipment on that side of the room.

Since the Sub-Juniors made no restrictions in the use of their money the library hopes to purchase with it one more chair for the children's department.

The Sub-Juniors are a group of eighteen girls under the leadership of Mrs. L. Parker Miller, of Dudley Avenue. Their officers are Elizabeth Venneman, president; Betty Otto, vice president; Carrie Louise Douglass, recording secretary; Evelyn Jefferis, corresponding secretary, and Annette Watson, treasurer.

Junior High Track Squad Vanquishes West Chester

Coach Harman's junior high track squad from Lower Merion won its dual meet with West Chester Junior High School at West Chester last Friday afternoon, 55 to 21. Lower Merion took first place in everything except the pole vault. In this event David Ridge and Joe Leidy, representing the Orange and Black from the Main Line, did better than they ever did before, but not enough to win from West Chester's two star vaulters, Murphy and Lyons. These boys vault ten feet two inches consistently, which is remarkable considering the fact that the suburban record for senior high schools is only ten feet six inches. Ridge's mark was nine feet eight inches.

Trophies for Swimmers
Numerals were presented to the members of the senior class boys' swimming and basketball teams Tuesday morning at the high school assembly. These teams won the interclass contests during the past semester.

Letters were presented at the same time to the members of the boys' varsity swimming team.

Artist Buys Home

Announcement was made this week by J. Raymond Sharp, Narberth, of his second sale of the house at 39 Narbrook Park. Held for $14,500, it has this time been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Alvan E. Reid, to Roland F. Harper, Philadelphia artist. Mr. Harper will make improvements and plans to bring his bride, a Cuban, to live in Narberth some time in September, after their wedding this summer.

WEEKLY HEALTH TALK

"Give the Body a Square Deal," Says Dr. Theodore Appel.

"Co-operation is perhaps an overworked word these days. However, when it is applied to health problems it is an exceedingly apt one. The difficulty is that this fact is not so thoroughly appreciated by the general run of person as it might be," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, recently.

"Properly, the magazines and papers feature the work of health organizations, Federal, State and local. But there is an apparent unfortunate tendency for many to imagine that with the health officials—not to mention insurance companies—on the job, little if anything needs to be done along health lines by themselves.

"Now the truth of the matter is that organizations interested in health are doing an efficient job on the public phases of health work involving adequate sewerage facilities, pure water, child disease control. Nevertheless, a very big job remains for the individual. And he alone can do it.

"Giving the body a square deal, in the last analysis, is purely a personal proposition. Health departments cannot regulate one's food and smoke intake, one's exercise, one's sleep, one's fresh air, one's amusements or one's leisure. And yet all these things very intimately and essentially affect one's health condition.

"As a matter of fact, the official health agencies may be ever so busy and ever so capable but their activities will be of little consequence to those persons who deliberately live in direct violation to nature's fundamental laws.

"Official medicine is doing its part splendidly. However, one's health success lies in his enthusiastic co-operation with it."

"The most passionate conviction of rightness is never a proof that we are not mistaken."
—Harold J. Laski.

Narberth Sluggers Swamp Ardmore Nine

temporarily ended hostilities. Two runs.

Graham sent nine heaves over the dish in the third to subdue three rivals in fast order and then joined his comrades in the swatting festivity that ensued. Narberth found McLintock easy for four runs in the fifth, and Doran, who pompously ambled to the box in the middle of the fourth to relieve McLintock of his misery, proved a total flop, as the champions touched him at will, putting the score at 11-2 in the fifth. Martin shot a swift bouncer past Devlin for a single and went on to second unhindered. Curvin crashed the pellet to deep center for a single and Mulligan was retired on strikes. Burns reached first when the right fielder dropped his rocket and skipped on the second, Martin crossing in the meantime.

McLintock had heaved two balls to the diminutive Graham when Doran usurped duties on the hill. He, however, donated the remaining ball to allow Graham to take a walk. Powell looped one over the first baseman's head, which barely landed fair, filling the bags for the second time. Criss greeted Heckle's fly, and when Doran fumbled Fleck's roller and threw wild to first, Graham crossed. Harris was thrown out, Devlin to Harkin. Four runs.

After Graham lofted to left, Powell came to the plate and received his third pass of the game. Heckle drove a liner to left and Fleck doubled to right, Powell scoring. Harris fled to first and Martin singled to center, forwarding Heckle. Curvin passed a called ball as Martin crept over to second unmolested, and then went on to third as the second baseman missed a perfect assist from the catcher. Exit Doran, enter Henner. Curvin rolled sharply along the ribbon in left, Fleck and Martin tallying third and fourth run, respectively, and Curvin crossed as Mulligan reached first on Roach's error. Mulligan went to third when Burns smashed a violent comber through shortstop and out into center. A moment later, however, he was run down on the keystone bag. Five runs.

From the fifth on neither team did much, Narberth adding two in the eighth, making the total 13, and Ardmore coming through with an extra point for good measure, making three runs.
